

My main concern is the amount of noise level to be increased in my area, as we now have too much noise coming from the telecommunications tower and electrical transfer station located right in the middle of our town.

The noise level on any given day is around an S7-9 and if added, the expected noise level from BPL, would pretty much wipe out all communications for our area.

Being that we live in tornado alley, Amateur Radio and Emergency Communications are depended on a great deal. I would hate to not be able to communicate outside of our county because of an increase in man-made noise level.

PLease reconsider your position on this subject to inusre that life saving communications is not blocked out completely.

Thank you
